

WOMEN PLAN TO HOLD REGULAR MEN'S MEETING

Last Annual Convention of Tennessee Woman Suffrage Association Which Will Be Held May 18 To Be Notable.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 30. (Sp.)—The gathering of Tennessee women in Nashville Tuesday, May 18, to attend the last annual convention of the Tennessee Woman Suffrage association promises to be one of the largest and most interesting meetings of its kind ever held in this state. Not only a large number of suffrage association members are planning to attend, but members of various women's organizations ever Tennessee as well.

A feature of the meeting is the fact that the entire convention is to be modeled after the men's political gatherings and political problems will be brought up for discussion at this time. Both the Republican women and the Democratic women of the state will gather to take up the subjects that interest the women and stand for the uplift of humanity.

After has an idea that when politics is introduced into the women's meetings it will tend to convert the women into the ways of the men. Some believe that they will become manlike in their ways and depart entirely from their feminine characteristics. It is not the intention of the women of Tennessee to do this, they state, but on the other hand they feel that a woman can be just as graceful talking about the government under which she has to live as she can talking about washing the dinner dishes. Their main object will be, whether they be Democrats or Republicans, to make the laws of Tennessee better for women and children and cleaner in every respect.

Speakers Accept.

Mrs. George P. Milton, president of the Tennessee Woman Suffrage association, has just received an acceptance from both Mrs. George Bass, of Chicago, head of the national women's Democratic party, and Mrs. Mary Garrett, Hay, of New York, of the national women's Republican party, stating that they will be present and speak at the convention. The talks to be made by these two women alone will be worth the trip to Nashville, as they are excellent speakers. Mrs. Hay is the woman who "put suffrage over" in New York, and Mrs. Bass was appointed on the arrangement committee for the big national convention to be held in San Francisco. These two women hold the first highest honors that were conferred upon women by the political parties.

Mrs. Charles Williams, of Memphis, of the state Democratic committee women's organization, will establish headquarters at the Maxwell house and will have it open during the convention. All clubs of the state are urged to send delegates to the meeting next month. This invitation comes from the officers of the state association.

SEEK REMOVAL OF MAN TO ST. LOUIS

A petition for order for removal of Joe Lee Hammond, confessed robber of the United States postoffice at Holly-wood, Mo., arrested in Memphis, April 24, and placed under $5,000 bond at a preliminary hearing before George H. Poole, United States commissioner, was filed Friday in the clerk's office of the district court for the Western district of Tennessee.

Hammond was arrested here on a federal warrant prepared by a number of indictments returned by the grand jury of the southeastern division of the Eastern district court of Missouri, and confined to the county jail upon failure to make his bond. The petition requests that the court order Hammond to be removed to St. Louis to answer charges.

MEMORIAL ART GALLERY HAS CHICAGO EXHIBITION

There are 25 paintings by Chicago artists now on display at the art gallery in downtown park. The exhibition was collected by C. H. Burgholzer, curator of paintings at the art institute, and represented the best of Chicago art.

Most of the artists were represented here two years ago, and made many friends. The exhibition is even better this year, and shows a great deal of careful work on the part of the artists. The first impression of the exhibit is the study of light and sunshine. There are a great many landscapes, principally spring and summer motifs. And several thoroughly good portraits as well as harbor scenes and the mid-ocean.

A well-selected exhibition is quite up to the regular standard. The art gallery is free to the public, open daily from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. There is always something of special interest in the north end of the building is the exhibit of local art from the schools and studios. And is well worth seeing.
